CLEANING UP—Murray City firemen are burning the remains of a house on Pine Street, which was gutted by fire several months ago. Murray City Mayor John Scott ordered the lot to be cleaned up after several residents of the area registered complaints. The remains of the house will be burned to the ground, and the city will complete the clean-up of the debris. City Clerk Jo Crass said the costs of the clean-up will be added to the tax bill of the owner, Kenneth Allen, who now lives in Tennessee.

Ford Expected To Sign Tax Measure Into Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is expected to sign the tax bill that continues some existing income tax cuts and makes major revisions in the nation's tax laws.

Congress approved the bill Thursday. Multibillion-dollar general income tax cuts enacted last year to fight the recession would be continued through 1977, worth $180 to a typical family of four making $15,000 a year. Across-the-board business income tax cuts also would be extended.

Some wealthier persons would find a mixture of tax increases and decreases, including hikes of $1 billion a year under the so-called minimum tax on the rich, for example, but cuts of roughly that amount through a sweeping overhaul of gift and estate taxes.

For the first time, many housewives could qualify for tax-deferred pension plans. And a family's tax bills would be cut by as much as $800 a year for parents who must hire a babysitter so they can hold their jobs. A simpler, more generous tax-cutting credit would go to the elderly. Investors would discover their tax shelters are disappearing.

In all, during the five-year federal budget period beginning next month, tax cut extensions for individuals and businesses will cost the Treasury a total of $54.6 billion, another $4.2 billion will be lost through estate and gift tax changes, while other tax revisions are gaining $9.9 billion for the government.

By making so many changes across such wide stretches of the tax fields, this bill is considered by veteran congressional tax experts to be the most sweeping revision in roughly two decades.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and others in Congress were looking forward to more tax changes next year.

"It is a step forward, but only a small one," Kennedy said. "There is plenty left for the next Congress and (Democratic presidential nominee) Jimmy Carter to do on tax reform, and I hope that we shall be starting on the task as early as possible next year."

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, suggested more is possible in simplifying the tax law.

"It is my hope that we can move in a quantum leap toward simplification in the next Congress. But this bill does simplify the tax returns for the average taxpayer in a very meaningful way," Ullman said, such as condensing tax tables for the basic tax form 1040.

Ullman also pointed to changes involving the standard deductions. Millions of persons "who now go through the tortuous process" of dealing with their deductions, Ullman said, would be put "into the standard deduction category where they will get a better tax break — so this is major simplification here."

The bill would make permanent the present temporary boosts in minimum and maximum standard deductions, used by those who do not itemize on their tax returns.

BULLETIN Officials Deny Kissinger Shot In Africa Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Washington officials denied a rumor circulated in some financial circles late this morning that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger had been shot in Africa. The officials said that Kissinger had been contacted after the report circulated. The origin of the rumor was not immediately known.

Hospital Board Accepts Bid For Construction

The Murray-Calloway County Hospital Board of Commissioners accepted the low bid of $4,134,500 for a new addition to the local hospital, at its regular meeting last night.

The acceptance is subject to approval of the bid by the architect. The low bid, submitted by Hartz-Kirkpatrick Construction Co., was $90,000 less than Hal Perry Construction Co., according to Hospital Administrator Stuart Poston.

The bids were opened Thursday at two p.m., and the board accepted the low bid last night. Although the board has no control over sub-contractors, the board members did request that local sub-contractors be used as much as possible in the construction.

The project will be funded with a $550,000 grant to the hospital, a $1,895,000 loan from Hill-Burton funds, and about $2.26 million in revenue bonds to be sold by the hospital.

Poston noted that the hospital will not have any problem paying off the revenue bonds with the increased utilization of the hospital facilities after the new construction. He also said that a slight increase in patient day charges might be necessary to keep the hospital on a financial basis similar to its present position.

He also pointed out that Pikeville is the only hospital of similar size in Kentucky with lower rates than Murray, and explained that even with a $10 per patient day increase in charges, Murray would be well below the rates charged by area hospitals, including Mayfield and Benton. Patient day charges include other services besides room rates, and increases would not have to be added to only room rate charges in order to make up a patient day charge increase.

Poston said it will take about two months to sell the bonds, and the board agreed that it may be necessary to call a special meeting in the next month to consider going ahead with construction before the bonds are sold.

County Judge Robert O. Miller said that he has no worries about starting construction before having "money in hand," because he feels certain that "we'll have no problem getting the money."

In other action, the board accepted a letter from Murray Mayor John Scott, explaining the city council's position on the controversial hospital bylaws.

Scott's letter explained that the council's action to rescind approval of the bylaws was based on four points of concern: vote by proxy of the board members; receiving pay when absent from meetings; amendments to the bylaws without council and fiscal court approval; and exclusion of minority representation on the board.

A motion followed by Judge Miller that the board accept the letter as read, and proceed to the next item on the agenda, without further discussion.

After no discussion followed, Chairman Jim Garrison remarked that he wanted to give the bylaws back to the bylaws committee for serious consideration of the council's points of concern. No voted action was taken on this request, but informal approval was given by the board.

The board also discussed a self-insurance program that is now under consideration at the hospital. Chairman Garrison called the program a "can of worms," and noted that there are many unanswered questions on the new program. A ruling is still forthcoming at the state level on the constitutionality of such a program.

Administrator Poston presented the board with a preliminary proposal for self-insurance by the hospital that would cost about $13,500 per year, as opposed to the current rates of around $50,000 per year for hospital liability insurance.

No action was taken on the preliminary proposal, and Poston said that he should have a finished proposal by the next board meeting. Board members Judge Miller and Harold Hurt, both local attorneys, were concerned over some of the costs of the self-insurance program, and whether or not they are warranted.

Planning Commission To Meet On Tuesday

The Murray Planning Commission will meet in regular session Tuesday at seven p.m. at City Hall, according to City Planner Steve Zea.

Included on the agenda will be introduction of Greg McKeel, new commission member; a report on the bikeway plan; discussion of 701 contract; report on building permits issued in August; update on the railroad depot; a report on a Sirloin Stockade building permit issued this month; action taken by the board of zoning adjustment; discussion of the paving program; and discussion of the Chester Engineers visit to Murray Sept. 23 to discuss the sewage facilities plan.

ONE INJURED—One person was injured in this one-car accident on Highway 641 North last night. Kentucky State Police said Kimberly A. Caruthers, 18, of Paducah, was the only occupant of the car. Miss Caruthers was listed in stable condition today at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. Details of the accident were not available, but the car apparently left the road and collided with a tree 4.6 miles north of Murray. The accident occurred at about 10:22 p.m. Thursday, and was investigated by State Trooper Ronnie Moran, of Marshall County.

Marijuana 'Harvested'

MARIJUANA FOUND—Murray City Police and Kentucky State Police narcotics investigators "harvested" 260 pounds of marijuana found growing on property east of Murray. The marijuana has an estimated street value of $93,600. Police said the marijuana was growing on land owned by Dan Boaz, but that he had rented it out. Officers said warrants have been obtained, but that no arrests had been made. The marijuana was brought in with a tractor and wagon borrowed from Boaz. Officers involved were Chief Brent Manning, front, and, on tractor, left to right, Phil Owens, of Murray Police Dept., Joe Pat Cohoon, Kentucky State Police, and Capt. Paul Jerry Lee.

Feels Unwanted in Her Steady's Home

DEAR ABBY: I'm 17 and have been going steady with a guy I'll call David for two years. He's 17, too. I'm really in love with him, and his folks know we plan to be married in a couple of years.

The problem is his mother. When I'm at his house, she treats me like an outsider. If I happen to be there during mealtime, she never asks me to join them. She makes me feel unwanted. David's father and grandparents seem to like me, but his mother doesn't.

I've never said anything to David about my hurt feelings because he and his mother are very close, and I don't want to start trouble between them.

I'd like for his mother to make me feel like one of the family, Abby, but I don't know how to go about it. Can you give me your views on this matter, or some good advice?

OUTSIDER

DEAR OUTSIDER: David's mother is communicating to you in non-verbal language that she is not pleased with your relationship with her son. Perhaps she feels you are both too young to be thinking of marriage—even "in a couple of years." You say, "If I happen to be there at mealtime she never asks me to join them." You shouldn't be there at mealtime unless you were invited. My advice is to avoid going where you are made to feel "unwanted."

DEAR ABBY: Here is a suggestion for parents to help safeguard their daughters during their courting days. First, make a rule that your daughter cannot go out with a young man unless he comes to the house so you can meet him first.

When he shows up, the mother should entertain him while the father goes outside and takes down his license number and a good description of his car. Color, model, etc. During the evening, if the daughter has any trouble with him, she could say, "My father took down your license number and will call the police if I am not home at the time they specified." This is foolproof protection for any girl.

THINKING AHEAD

DEAR THINKING: And what happens if a creep with evil intentions shows up in a taxi?

DEAR ABBY: We would like to have your advice on this problem. Our friends and two lawyers say that we are wrong in trying to control the disposition of our estate after we are deceased.

We want to put our money (approximately $100,000) into a trust fund or something similar for each other so that we can't get the principal, only the interest. Thus, we would be protected in our old age if we should become incapable of managing our affairs. When we both die, our two children will be able to get the interest, but not the principal—which they don't need because they have a good income now.

When we die, they will get the interest from it for the rest of their lifetime. Then, when they pass on, the principal will either be divided up among their children (our grandchildren) or left there for the interest, whichever way our children decide is best.

Do you think that we are wrong in wanting to do this? Or, what would your advice be? Thank you.

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: It's your money, not your lawyers' or friends'—so I advise you to plan for the disposition of your estate in a manner that will please YOU.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

You And I Can Prevent Blindness

For years, many of us may have noticed the articles, the warnings, the offerings of materials and services directed to us by the Kentucky Society for the Prevention of Blindness. Some of us have read these messages attentively and thoughtfully. A few of the articles may have hit home, particularly a description of an eye disease which just happened to coincide with the symptoms a family member has been complaining about.

Some of us may even have benefited directly from the services and activities of the Society...through information, through a glaucoma clinic or a preschool vision screening, or through their industrial eye protection program.

Not enough of us. Otherwise why would the Society's slogan remain timely and accurate...that half of all cases of blindness that occur in Kentucky are needless and preventable. They've been telling us that since 1955.

Needless and preventable cases of blindness are from:

Cataract — still the leading cause of blindness, yet can be surgically treated with vision restored in 95 per cent of patients.

Glaucoma — accountable for 14 per cent of all cases of blindness, can be medically treated and permanently arrested, yet today, half of the 28,000 Kentuckians who have glaucoma, don't know it. They face blindness, the tragically predictable outcome of untreated glaucoma.

Eye Injuries — whether caused by hazardous articles such as toy weapons (BB guns, sling shot), fireworks, caustic chemicals, or lack of proper safety eyewear in industrial settings or school lab and shop classes.

These are some of the "enemies" the Society has taken on. There are many more. Many of their programs and projects invite our direct participation.

Find out about their preschool vision screening projects, about the Home Eye Test for preschoolers, about glaucoma screenings — volunteers are always needed. Or about their new eye safety program aimed at elementary school children. Learn more about eye care for yourself and your family. Write to KSPB, Box 132, Louisville, Kentucky 40201. The Society is supported entirely by voluntary contributions to continue their prevention of blindness programs and they need your sight-saving dollars.

Capital Spending Affects Everyone

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Capital spending is hardly what anyone but a zealously dedicated economist might call a glamorous subject, but it has some decidedly significant consequences for almost everyone.

At the moment you won't find many stories about capital spending on the front pages of your newspaper, and it probably never will land there. But in business and economic journals it's headline material.

The big discussion in these journals is whether or not business is committing enough money to new plants and equipment—that's capital spending—to provide sufficient capacity to meet future demand.

That's where you come in. If capacity is insufficient, then you may be certain that prices will continue rising and even that product shortages might develop. It is a situation to be avoided.

And that brings us to the great discussion in the business and economic journals. As usual, the economists are divided: Some say spending is adequate, others suggest an economic crisis could be developing.

For more than a year, Capital spending wasn't very vigorous, despite the slow recovery from the recession and an increase in consumer demand. Businessmen weren't ready, it seemed, to believe the recovery was real.

Even into this year the economists were disturbed by this lack of commitment, but gradually capital spending began to pick up somewhat. In the first half of the year spending was at an annual rate of about $118 billion.

That figure in itself probably has little significance to the layman other than being an enormous sum. But enormous sums are commonplace these days because, despite its weaknesses, this is an economy of immense size.

Let the economists worry about that figure, and worry they will.

There are economists who worry that industry simply cannot raise the money to pay for needed expansion and that, therefore, expansion is bound to lag behind demand.

There are those who fear that the spirit of enterprise, innovation and investment is fading in the United States because, they say, business people have lost faith in the future of America.

There are those who maintain that industry would rather restrict capacity, forego the expense of expansion, and thereby artificially maintain high prices.

There are economists who look at the situation from an entirely different perspective. There are, for instance, those who point out that we don't even know what our present available industrial capacity is.

TODAY'S TOPIC: THE BRZEZINSKI DESIGN

One of the principal dangers facing the American people is that a new breed of foreign policy planner will endeavor to sacrifice U. S. interests and principles in an effort to appease the hostile nations of the Third World.

This danger can be discerned very clearly in an article by Prof. Zbigniew Brzezinski of Columbia University printed in the summer issue of Foreign Policy, a journal published "in association with the Carnegie Endowment For International Peace." Dr. Brzezinski is much in the news these days, as the press reports that he may be nominated for Secretary of State or head of the National Security Council if Gov. Jimmy Carter is elected President.

Dr. Brzezinski, a native of Poland who came to America in 1958, argues that the United States must accommodate itself to the nations of Afro-Asia and Latin America—the so-called Third World countries—which have no interest in the traditional American ideal of liberty and which insist on global redistribution of wealth. This redistribution would be at the expense of the American people.

Dr. Brzezinski's article, entitled "America In A Hostile World," all but completely ignores the threat posed to our country and civilization by the armed might and brutal ideology of the Soviet Union. And whereas the United States has need of defending its system, Dr. Brzezinski in effect proposes a phased capitulation to the tyrannical regimes which comprise the Third World.

"Structural changes in the American way of doing things becomes inevitable," he writes. "Resist as it might, the American system is gradually compelled to accommodate itself to this emerging international context."

One wonders what Dr. Brzezinski means in a very specific way.

Does he mean the United States should accommodate itself to the political designs of North Korea and Cuba, for example? Does he mean that the United States should accept the demand of the Third World nations at their recent conference in Sri Lanka for a new economic order that would result in massive new transfer payments from the U.S. to Southern Hemisphere nations?

Dr. Brzezinski criticizes former Ambassador Patrick Moynihan for condemning Third-World aggression. "Such isolated self-righteousness," he said, "could prove particularly destructive..." To the majority of Americans, however, Ambassador Moynihan's candid comments provided a breath of fresh air at the United Nations. The U. S. public was pleased and proud that their representative at the U. N. rebuked the petty dictatorships that dominate the world organization.

It is clear from Dr. Brzezinski's article that he hasn't much concern for America's free market economic system. He writes that the "general trend is toward systems that do diverge from the American blend of private enterprise, corporate ownership, and indirect government control." He writes as though this divergence indicated a need for America to get in step with the socialist countries. Because other lands turn to totalitarianism is no reason for America to surrender its heritage of freedom.

Dr. Brzezinski makes the curious remark that "Capitalism in our country is the potential inherent in the American pattern." He adds: "As was the case with Stalin's 'socialism in one country', it could prompt in America a siege mentality." It is interesting that Dr. Brzezinski doesn't suggest closer ties among the capitalist powers of the world, which are the truly strong nations—West Germany, Japan, and Australia, for example. Apparently he is convinced that proletarian forces represent the wave of the future. How many times over so many years, we have heard that notion expressed by liberal academicians.

One of the most striking aspects of Dr. Brzezinski's article is the author's clearly revealed hostility toward Americans who presumably have deep roots in the country. At one point he refers to "the historical irrelevance of the WASPS (white, Anglo-Saxon Protestants)." Elsewhere in the article he makes the strange statement that the Vietnam War was the "Waterloo of the WASP elite," whatever that is supposed to mean, saying the conflict "cracked WASP morale, motivation, and monopoly of foreign affairs."

For a comparative newcomer to these shores, Dr. Brzezinski doesn't hesitate to speak, in angry tones, of those elements in our society who have sacrificed and shed blood for this nation over many generations. These are comments that may haunt Dr. Brzezinski if his name ever comes before a congressional committee in a confirmation hearing.

Zbigniew Brzezinski writes in a jargon peculiar to academicians. His language is difficult to penetrate. But a close reading of his article in Foreign Policy reveals his disinterest in the concept of liberty and his desire for the United States to accommodate itself to the demands of the arrogant Third World nations. The Brzezinski design can be summed up in one word: appeasement.

Galatians 4:8-11

Due to the teaching and the influence of the Judaizers, who had come into the midst of the Galatian Christians and invaded their ranks, some of the latter had allowed themselves to revert to their previous bondage. Prior to their coming to know God through Christ they had been the slaves of Satan and sin. After they had come to know God as their heavenly Father, they had experienced the joyous privilege and inestimable blessing of intimate communion with Him. Grieved by their great folly in this regard, and unable to comprehend why they preferred slavery to the numerous benefits of sonship, with deep feeling and great tenderness Paul asked them to explain why they followed themselves to be enslaved again by the very spirits from which Christ had rescued them.

Instead of continuing in free and joyful communion with God, they permitted their religion to degenerate into a dreary routine of observing rules and regulations. Rather than becoming increasingly appreciative of the liberty with which Christ had set them free, as they should have done, they turned to the observance of days, and to other formalistic practices, thereby causing the Apostle to wonder if the time, energy, and effort he had spent on them had been in vain.

Galatians 5:1-10

Truly appreciating the freedom which Christ had purchased on the cross and had given to every true believer, Paul longed for his readers to comprehend its nature and tremendous value. Fearful that some of them might be enticed by the Judaizers to become entangled again in the meshes of legalism, Paul urgently requested the Galatian Christians to remain true to Christ and steadfast in their loyalty to the gospel of grace which he had preached to them so fervently and earnestly.

Freedom from the law of Moses as a ground of acceptance with God, or as a means of salvation, was the freedom which some of the Galatian Christians, whom Christ had saved and placed in the family of God, were on the verge of forfeiting. Paul rightfully insisted that there cannot be two grounds of salvation — God's grace and man's works. The person who trusts in his observance of the Mosaic law or his own human efforts as the ground of his acceptance with God certainly does not trust in God's grace for salvation. The Judaizers were subtle and enticing in that they did not ask the Galatians to surrender their Christian faith, but they did urge them to add to the work of Christ their personal efforts in keeping the law.

Of all the wonderful truths taught in the Bible, none is clearer or more emphatic than the teaching that man is saved by grace through faith in Christ. Each child of God knows that he received his salvation by God's grace through his personal faith in Jesus Christ. One wonders why anybody who has read God's Word, or who has been instructed in it, would attempt to achieve salvation through his human efforts, and thereby deprive himself of this invaluable possession.

Those who receive salvation from the Lord Jesus Christ, the only Saviour, by grace through faith derive great joy from committing themselves to Christ's lordship, yielding themselves to the Holy Spirit for endowment and direction, and having delightful fellowship with God's children who are living in a godly manner and serving the Lord faithfully and nobly in and through the churches. Let us bring all of the honor and glory possible to Christ who delivered us from the clutches of Satan and placed us in the family of God.

HEARTLINE

HEARTLINE is a service for senior citizens of all ages. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems — fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write HEARTLINE, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. Senior citizens will receive prompt replies, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I am a 66-year-old senior citizen, and I have an allergy to penicillin. I am very worried that if I have an accident someone may give penicillin to me by mistake. Do you have any suggestion? — H. D.

ANSWER: This is a very serious problem that about 40 million other Americans have, and in many cases, the administration of an improper drug could be fatal.

Medic Alert Foundation is attempting to prevent such tragedies through an international medical identification program. A person who has a hidden medical problem can send for a Medic Alert emblem. This is worn with a chain around the neck or wrist.

The emblem has the person's medical problem, I. D. number and the foundation's hotline number on it. This number can be called collect 24 hours a day from any place in the world.

For more information, write to the Medic Alert Foundation, P. O. Box 1009, Turlock, Calif. 95380.

HEARTLINE: My husband and I will start receiving Social Security retirement benefits soon. I will be 62 and will receive benefits as his wife, along with our daughter. The month she is 18 years old, she will finish her schooling, and I will be 63 years old. Will my benefits increase then when her benefits stop? — B. B.

ANSWER: Yes, your benefits will increase. However, if you elect to receive benefits at age 63, they would not be as high as they would be if you waited until you were age 65.

Even though you will be 62 while your daughter is receiving benefits, your benefits will be based on the fact that you will be a wife with a child under 18 in your care, and your age will not be a factor.

However, when your daughter's benefits end, you will be, of course, no longer in this category, but rather, your benefits will be based on your age only. If you were under age 62, your benefits would end when your daughter's benefits ended, but since you will be age 63, then, your benefits can be continued if you wish.

For example, if your husband's unreduced benefit was $240.20, you and your daughter would receive $82 each. When your daughter's benefit ended, your benefit would then increase to $120.10 if you were age 65 or older. However, at age 63 that amount would be reduced to $100.00. A wife's benefit reduction is 25 per cent at age 62 or 25-36 of 1 per cent reduction for each month before age 65 is reached.

For people having trouble understanding the Social Security program, Heartline has developed a book on Social Security called "Heartline's Guide to Social Security." This book is in large print and easy-to-understand question-and-answer form. This book covers the most important aspects of the Social Security program.

To order, send $2 to "Heartline's Guide to Social Security," P. O. Box 4994, Des Moines, Iowa 50306.

Today In History

Today is Friday, Sept. 17th, the 261st day of 1976. There are 105 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1787, the Constitution of the United States was completed and signed by a majority of delegates attending the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia.

On this date — In 1665, a bubonic plague broke out in London.

In 1862, in the Civil War, Union forces hurled back a Confederate invasion of Maryland in the battle of Antietam.

In 1939, the debut of the radio program "Maj. Bowes Amateur Hour" began a trend toward talent contests in American broadcasting.

In 1939, the Soviet Union invaded Poland in World War II.

In 1949, more than 130 people were killed when fire destroyed the "Noronic," the largest passenger steamer on the Great Lakes, at a Toronto pier.

Let's Stay Well

Alcoholism Deserves More Attention

By F. J. L. Blasingame, M.D.

Alcoholism is a common, complex, disabling group of disorders. It is a form of chemical dependency associated with abusive drinking of ethanol.

The causes of alcoholism are obscure. They are usually recognized as multiple and often mixed, including cultural, chemical, and psychological aspects.

Alcoholism is one of the major problems facing humankind individually and collectively.

Management of alcoholism is generally unsatisfactory, and it continues to damage the lives and families of about 10 million Americans. Its costs to industry and its added costs in accidents and diseases run into billions of dollars in our nation every year, in addition to the associated stress and unhappiness.

Abstinence has long been considered the principal yardstick of success in treatment of this disease. Alcoholics Anonymous has long subscribed to nondrinking as essential in management. Ongoing support from former fellow alcoholics has served as a "behavioral splint" to maintain non-use of alcohol, preferably for the indefinite future — the longer, the better.

Others dealing with the management of alcoholics contend that controlled drinking is possible for selected patients. While some of them can drink again without losing control, no test is available to tell ahead of time the effect of taking another drink. Those who are successful in doing so apparently are free of physical or chemical addiction. In addition to abstinence, successful management directs the alcoholic toward a full, comfortable, productive life. Competence at work, in the home, and in casual human relationships are feasible yardsticks to judge manifestation of cure.

We have come a long way in the realization that alcoholism is a disease. We need to extend this realization so that we approach alcoholism as a serious, chronic disorder. It merits extensive research and education.

We should apply reason and dedicated efforts — not emotionalism. We need to mobilize and utilize our current health facilities and personnel to cope with this major group of related problems. We could use a wholesome expansion of curiosity in research on alcoholism.

Q. Mrs. E. Z. wants to know if it is essential to have youngsters' blood pressure checked at school during screening examinations prior to participating in athletic programs.

A. While blood pressure measurements may not be essential, they are highly desirable in all children, especially those who are to participate in athletics. Such screening helps to identify early cases of elevated blood pressure, some of which require treatment.

Most authorities agree that essential hypertension begins early in life and should be respected and treated as necessary to keep the pressure near normal levels.

Q. Ms. P. J. asks how many physicians are employed by the federal government. Is the number growing?

A. According to the American Medical Association, the number of physicians employed by the Army, Navy, Air Force, U.S. Public Health Service, National Health Service Corps, and Vista has declined from 29,768 in 1968 to slightly more than 26,000 in 1975. The end of the military draft and cuts in federal funds accounted for the reduction. The number of physician recruits entering this year, in spite of malpractice insurance costs and other factors, is estimated at about 500.

"Ye Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Thee Free."

"Ye Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Thee Free" (John 8:32)

Jesus said these words many years ago and there are few today who would disagree. The question remains, how do we discover the truth? Every day we hear someone preaching that their doctrine is the "truth". It becomes quite confusing when we are confronted with so many different philosophies all proclaiming to be the ultimate truth.

Sometimes truth is revealed quite dramatically as it was to Saul on the road to Damascus when he was struck blind. When his sight was restored he became a convert to Christianity and never wavered from his belief that it was the one true religion. With most of us, however, truth is revealed very slowly. We must spend much time in deep reflection and study of the Bible. This is the way we finally begin to understand the truth. Then the Christian understands Christ's words, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make thee free."

Standing On The Firing Line

By Mike Brandon
Sports Editor

And The Prediction For Tonight Is:

The big day of the big night is here at last. It's been a long, yet short, week. Thus far, the predictions on the season stand at 19 correct and only two wrong. The two wrong came last week when Fort Campbell defeated Castle Heights and Marshall County stunned Ohio County. Well, at least I found out where Castle Heights is; it's in Indiana.

The 19-2 record is an accuracy mark of .905 which would be some sort of world record if it were to hold up for the season. But there's no way.

Several of the games in the area tonight will probably knock the predictions down somewhat.

Okay, we're not going to be like the political candidates. Here we go with the one you've been waiting for:

Mayfield at MURRAY HIGH—if I'm wrong on this one, I'll get letters from Mayfield all next week but that's fine folks, as long as you have the guts to sign them.

To begin with, Mayfield's football program is going to be very strong over the next few years. Next season will not be a bright one for Murray. The simple truth for the Tigers is it's now or a heck of a long time; we can't go as far as to say now or never.

Not since 1965 has Murray defeated the Cardinals. A hard rain a few hours before the game could make a lot of difference. But if the field is dry, then look for the Tigers to come out on top.

Now, how much are the Tigers going to win by? Okay. Murray is hungry, very hungry. There is a lot of psychology in this game and it's not going to be a close game. Either Murray will win by a fairly good-size margin or else Mayfield will win by a large margin.

Again, it's not going to be a close game. I can't see anyone scoring a lot of points off Murray High's defense, though it could happen. They have too much pride. Combine the pride with talent and you got a heck of a defensive unit.

Likewise, Mayfield has a lot of pride. They boast of having the top defensive unit in the state. Frankly, I don't think they have it. They have not played anyone really, or for that matter, have the Tigers.

One team is going to get out in front by a couple of touchdowns at halftime.

I think that one team will be Murray High.

Therefore, I'll take the Tigers by 20 points. That's t-w-e-n-t-y. I don't want anyone to think it's a misprint.

Apollo at BOWLING GREEN by 21 — Bowling Green is rolling and there's no reason to think they won't keep on doing so.

Caldwell County at TRIGG COUNTY by six — This is about as big as the Murray-Mayfield matchup. It's a grudge match. But Trigg County is hungry to go back to the playoffs. They also have a little more talent, especially in the backfield with quarterback Marty Jagers and tailback Vic Grubbs.

Christian County at NORTH HARDIN by six — Why not? Crittenden County at FULTON CITY by one — Boy, what a game to pick. Someone has to win, otherwise I might pick this one a tie. However, Fulton City is playing at home, if that means anything in football.

Fulton County at FORT CAMPBELL — Fulton County may be faced with guns and tanks and probably should be if they play as dirty as they did last week in their loss to Murray High. I'll take the Army any day, say by about 14 points.

Reidland at HEATH by 10 — Mark Hultman at the Sun-Democrat would love to see the Murray-Mayfield game but in all probability, he'll watch his alma mater Reidland lose to Heath. Heath is beginning to put it all together and by mid-season with a lot of young players on the roster, should be tough. Hopefully, Reidland will put it together against the likes of Mayfield and Todd County later this season.

Hopkinsville at CLARKSVILLE by three — Clarksville won two years ago on their home field and lost last season. Clarksville is known for having a rugged high school football team and so is Hopkinsville. Again, I'll go with the home team in a battle of closely-matched clubs.

Todd County at RUSSELLVILLE — Todd County is not a bad club, though they were murdered in first degree at Mayfield last Friday. But earlier this year, Russellville lost just 28-0 to powerful Franklin-Simpson so on the basis of that game, I'll pick Russellville by four in what should be one great game.

McLean County at WEBSTER COUNTY — What? Webster County favored to win a game? Normally, no. But again McLean County, why not? Webster County by six, if they can score that many. McLean can't.

Marshall County at UNION COUNTY by 12 — I was wrong last week. Marshall County is fired sky-high and they seem to think they can win this one. No, the Marshals aren't going to walk into Sturgis and win, though the two clubs are fairly matched on even terms.

P.S. for Mayfield fans and readers: The address is Post Office Box 32 in case the Cardinals win. In case the Tigers win, I'll never hear from ya'll so what the heck?

Royals Stretch Lead, Bucs Beat Phils Again

The Oakland A's had a notion about gaining ground on Kansas City in the American League West race, but Ford had a better idea.

Dan Ford, that is. Ford, a former A's farmhand, hit a pair of two-run homers to back Bill Singer's four-hit pitching and give Minnesota a 4-0 victory over Oakland Thursday night. That loss, coupled with Kansas City's 2-0 triumph over California, dropped the A's 4½ games behind the front-running Royals in the AL West.

Elsewhere in the American League, Texas trimmed the Chicago White Sox 5-4 and Boston edged Milwaukee 4-3. New York at Cleveland was rained out, while Baltimore and Detroit were not scheduled.

Ford homered off Stan Bahnsen, 8-6, in the fourth inning with Rod Carew on base and rocked Bahnsen again in the sixth, this time with Lyman-Bostock aboard. Seven of Ford's 19 homers this year have come against the A's, who traded him to Minnesota after the 1974 season.

"They caught me in a hot streak," said Ford, who also homered in a 4-2 victory over the A's Tuesday. "I guess you could say I play a little harder against Oakland. I signed with them, but never got a chance."

Ford spent four years in the A's farm system before he was obtained by the Twins in a trade for utilityman Pat Bourque.

"It bothered me at the time," said Ford, "but it actually worked out for the best."

Ford won a starting outfield berth with Minnesota in 1975, batting .280 with 15 homers. This year he's hitting .273 with 19 homers and 80 runs batted in.

Singer, 11-9, recorded his fourth shutout of the season and his third since joining the Twins in June in a deal with Texas. He allowed just four singles and two walks.

Where there's a Willie, there's a way for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"We're not giving up," says Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell. "We have the will to continue, no matter what the circumstances."

Stargell sounded Pittsburgh's homestretch battle cry after blasting a home run to help the Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6 Thursday night and cut their National League East lead to four games.

It was 15½ games at one point last month, but the swaggering Pirates have chopped most of it off by winning 17 of their last 22 starts — including five straight against the Phillies.

The teams played through a long rain delay and the Pirates blew leads of 5-0 and 6-4 before pulling it out on Rennie Stennett's dramatic ninth-inning double.

"I've been hitting line drives at people," said Stennett. "Luckily this one found the gap."

While the Phillies and Pirates were making the National League East more interesting, Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles 4-2 and moved closer to winning the West.

Reds 4, Dodgers 2.

Cincinnati left-hander Don Gullett, finding his 1975 form after a month of inactivity, won his second straight start by beating Los Angeles with a seven-hitter.

Mets 4, Cardinals 1. Jerry Koosman of New York became a 20-game winner for the first time in his career when he stopped St. Louis with a four-hit, 13-strikeout performance.

Morris Says Tigers And Cardinals May Be Playing More Than Game

By MIKE CLARK
AP Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It's even more important than No. 1 against No. 4. It's Mayfield vs. Murray.

"This daggummed thing is probably more meaningful now than it has ever been, because I think the team that wins this game is going to have a real good shot at winning it down here, even maybe being state champion," said Coach Jack Morris of State AA's top-ranked Mayfield.

The Mayfield-Murray clash is half of a choice football doubleheader Friday night that matches four of the five rated teams in State AA. In the other big game, No. 3 Corbin goes against No. 5 Middlesboro.

"We've got to play good, sound football if we're going to win," said Morris. "They're playing 23 seniors and we're playing a lot of underclassmen," Morris added. "We've got a lot of quickness and they've probably got more size and strength than we've got."

"We expect this to be, by all means, the toughest game we've had all season and, I think, will be the toughest game they've had," said Coach John Hina of 4th-ranked Murray. "The best ball club's going to win Friday night."

While those two powers collide, Middlesboro attempts to rebound from the 35-0 loss to Maryville, Tenn., that knocked the Yellow Jackets out of the No. 1 spot in State AA. Corbin, an impressive team so far, promises to be a difficult obstacle, especially with tailback Steve Bird logging the football. Bird scored all five touchdowns in Corbin's last outing, a 34-6 rout of Pineville.

While State AA stages its two wars, the rest of the ranked teams in the five state polls will be looking to remain unbeaten. Each of the top-ranked clubs are paired against unranked but potentially troublesome opponents.

Ashland, No. 1 in State AAAA, battles Lexington Bryan Station; No. 1 Bishop David of Jefferson County meets Iroquois; Ft. Thomas Highlands of State AAA battles Newport Catholic; and State A leader Harrodsburg meets Boyle County.

In other games involving ranked teams:

State AAAA: No. 2 Bowling Green meets Owensboro Apollo. No. 5 Paducah Tilghman is idle, while No. 4 Henderson County defeated No. 3 Owensboro

Catholic 28-20 Thursday night in a showdown of western Kentucky powers.

Jefferson County AAAA: No. 2 St. Xavier meets Central; No. 3 Trinity battles DeSales; and No. 5 Seneca plays Fern Creek. No. 4 Manual is idle.

State AAA: No. 2 Franklin-Simpson is at Warren East; No. 3 Erlanger Lloyd is at Newport; No. 4 Oldham County is at Breckinridge County; and No. 5 Danville is at Lincoln County.

Powerful Heath Edges Past Tiger Freshmen

Tasting defeat for the first time in two years, the Murray High freshmen Tigers fell 14-6 to powerhouse Heath Thursday night at Holland Stadium.

As eighth graders last year, the Tigers rolled to a 2-0 record, including two wins over the same Heath club. However, this time, it was a different story as the much bigger and more powerful Heath club rolled over Murray with an awesome ground attack.

In the first quarter, Dwight McDowell of the Tigers recovered a fumble on the Murray 27 with 6:30 left in the period. By the time the quarter had ended in a scoreless tie, the Tigers were on the Heath 13 and driving.

Only nine seconds into the second eight-minute period, a Rich Rollins pass was picked off. Heath continued to march downfield but with 2:01 left in the half, Gary Long of the Tigers came up with a fumble recovery on the Tiger 25. However, the play was ruled dead and Heath regained possession of the ball.

The fired-up Tiger defense got the ball back less than a minute later, right back on the 25. McDowell pounced on a loose football for his second fumble recovery of the game.

Murray got only a few yards before the Tigers fumbled the ball and Heath recovered. The half ended with Gary Long of the Tigers intercepting a pass.

Murray took the opening kickoff in the third period but the series ended when the Tigers fumbled and Heath recovered on the Murray 35.

Behind the powerful running of huge halfback James Long, the Pirates marched downfield.

Heath drove to the Tiger 10-yard line but Bradley Wells dropped Heath quarterback Terry Amos for a 10-yard loss.

With 2:33 left in the third period on a fourth and goal from the Tiger four, Long dove off right tackle and into the endzone. The conversion run failed and the Pirates led 6-0.

On the next series, the Tigers were shut down and Nicky Swift of the Tigers punted with just nine seconds left in the period. Heath fumbled and Tim Miller of the Tigers got the recovery.

Behind the fine running of Nicky Swift and Nickie Hibbard, the Tigers drove for paydirt. With just 4:08 left in the game, quarterback Rich Rollins tossed a four-yard scoring pass to Hibbard and that tied the game. The conversion pass was just overthrown.

On the kickoff, Heath got a good return and then Long proceeded to single-handedly eat up the Tigers' line. Time and time again, the huge Heath runner, who also plays on the varsity as do 10 of his frosh teammates, drug two and three Tiger defenders downfield with him.

Finally, with just 26 seconds left in the game, Long plunged over from five yards out. He also scored on the conversion run and it was a 14-6 game. Murray got off only one more offensive play in the game before time expired.

Heath may be the class of freshman football in the Purchase Area. Last year as eighth graders, they defeated Mayfield and lost only the two games to Murray.

So the Tiger freshmen have nothing to be ashamed of for losing to Heath.

Coach Mark Brady gave defensive plaudits to linebacker Nick Hibbard, defensive back Gary Long and cornerback Reed Hornsby.

The Tigers, now 0-1 on the year, are at Benton for a 4:45 p.m. game next Thursday.

Ledger & Times Sports Editor—There's an old saying about Murray that goes something like this: If you don't like our weather, stick around for a few minutes and it will change.

The same goes true for football at Murray State University. If you don't like it, just stick around a little and Bill Furgerson will do something to change it.

Last weekend, Murray was insulted 14-0 by Delta State. The biggest insult was the play of the Racer offensive line. So Furgerson, at least for Saturday's 6:30 p.m. C.D.T. game against Western Carolina, has reached into his hat and pulled out some new names.

Three of the four interior offensive linemen have been changed. Jim Jez will start at center and Dan Hutchison, who blocked 66 per cent last week, will return to his trench at left guard.

But after those two, get your program out if you plan on going to one of the next three Racer away games. Greg Haley is a 6-2, 218-pound redshirt freshman from Louisville. He will be starting at right tackle.

At left tackle is Wally Bruckner, a 6-3, 225-pound redshirt freshman from Chicago. At right guard will be Mark Robison, a 6-0, 200-pound Louisville freshman who played in 15 plays last week and graded an excellent 82 per cent in his blocking assignments.

"Let's just say the second unit has moved up," Furgerson said.

"Robison has moved up on the basis of his performance in the last game and so has Bruckner. Haley moved up because of his performance over the last two weeks," the veteran Racer coach added.

"The people who have been replaced don't have their heads down and they aren't going to give up. They are just writing it off as a bad game," Furgerson said.

Ruzich will start at quarterback for the Racers. The Indiana transfer fired 15 completions last week in 35 attempts for 188 yards.

Murray At Western Carolina Saturday

Furgerson Makes Changes In Starting MSU Offensive Line

However, he was sacked more times than groceries on a Saturday morning as the Racer offensive line went flip-flop and it was no relief.

Mike Dickens, who started at quarterback in the first game, will be available for duty, according to Furgerson. Dickens injured his big toe last week and ran in only one series against Delta State.

There will be only one other change, offensively, for the Racers. Larry Foxwell will be starting in place of Jeff Braaten as a receiver. Also, Brad Hemann is out indefinitely with an injury so that leaves Murray one man short in its outstanding crew of receivers.

"Our kids were very upset last week because they didn't play any better. Our defensive team played very well but we're all on the same team and we win or lose together," Furgerson said.

Western Carolina is off to a 2-0 start, including a 21-14 win last week over the sixth-rated Division IA team, Livingston State. In its first game, Western Carolina won a lackluster 19-7 contest over Presbyterian.

The mainstay of the Catamounts is tailback Darrell Lipford. In just two games, he has already racked up 299 yards. Last week, believe it or not, he carried the ball an unbelievable 45 times for 178 yards.

"He may start out by sweeping right and then end up going off left tackle," Furgerson said.

Quarterback Keith Scoggins, only a sophomore, hit eight of 13 passes last week for 121 yards. His two favorite targets are wideouts Jeff Ciccone and Wayne Tolleson. Both have caught five passes this season. Tolleson for 88 yards and Ciccone for 79 yards.

Western Carolina will have three big advantages for the game.

Number one, they have never beaten Murray before in Cullowhee. Secondly, school is just starting this week and the students will be back in what would otherwise be a ghost town of three stores and a church. Thirdly, Western Carolina probably has a 15-point better team. In fact, they are already talking about the possibility of being nationally-ranked this season.

For the Racers, it may not be the ideal way to tune-up for next week's Ohio Valley Conference opener at Tennessee Tech.

The Months Since Hearst Capture Have Brought Changes In Her Life

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — She sits in her cell, crocheting, reading away the hours and, according to her attorney, apprehensively pondering her future at the hands of the court. Soon she will know. A federal judge in San Francisco ordered Thursday that Patricia Hearst be brought here from her San Diego prison for sentencing a week from today on bank robbery charges. The announcement came two days before the anniversary of her capture on Sept. 18, 1975.

Miss Hearst was convicted March 20, of armed bank robbery and use of a firearm in a felony. The months since the end of her trial have brought changes in her, and in the persons whose lives she touched.

"She's apprehensive about her sentencing," attorney Albert Johnson said recently from the federal prison in San Diego. "She is very hopeful, as we are, that the judge will understand the fact that the whole thing was caused by a violent and brutal kidnapping. We will urge credit for time served and probation."

Judge William H. Orrick Jr.'s choice ranges between that minimum and the maximum of 35 years' imprisonment. Since her conviction, Miss Hearst, 22, has been in San Diego undergoing psychiatric testing that Orrick will use in reaching his decision.

Miss Hearst's celebrated eight-week trial disclosed details of her 19 months with the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army that kidnapped her 2½ years ago. Now, there are signs that she is looking ahead to a more normal existence.

"She'll be able to have a normal, useful life, although there are some individuals who'd like to do her harm," her attorney said, noting that Miss Hearst was listening as he spoke on the phone. "There would be problems with the security situation. But she has indicated she'd like to return to school and finish her education."

"She'd like to participate in magazine enterprises of her father and probably do writing. She's tending toward journalism and probably business. She has in the past indicated an interest in law but has to expose herself more to it."

Meanwhile, Miss Hearst reads and crochets scarves and caps for her parents and other family members who visit her weekly. She often talks to Johnson, her most frequent visitor, about personal and legal matters such as the appeal being prepared.

"I hope no one has to ever go through what I've had to go through," Johnson quoted her as saying.

There are signs that her parents, too, anticipate more tranquil times. During the trial, Miss Hearst's father, San Francisco Examiner executive editor and currently Hearst correspondent in Washington, "increasingly, he's at the paper. He's returning to a routine, supervisory corporate role. He has a healthy, constant interest in the paper now."

The day fugitive Patricia Hearst was arrested, her mother was attending a University of California Board of Regents meeting. She has not been to one since. Attorney William Coblenz, a family friend and UC regent, said: "Randy's adjustment is better than Catherine's. When you talk to Catherine, she goes ... well, she's still preoccupied with the case. I don't know what kind of routine she's in, but she ain't in the routine of going to regents meetings."

Two of the petite heiress' former loves — one from the underground and one from her college days — also are rebuilding their lives.

Steven Soliah, the house painter who was her lover in her last months underground, is free after acquittal in a trial for a fatal Carmichael, Calif., bank robbery.

"He's now trying to get his own life in order, as Patricia Hearst probably is trying to get hers together," says his attorney, Sheldon Otis. "He's painting houses, spending time with his parents, traveling, camping, getting together physically and reviewing the past few years."

Steven Weed, Miss Hearst's jilted former fiancé, is now a published author. The publisher says Weed's account of his romance and life with her, "My Search for Patty Hearst," has sold more than 85,000 hardbound copies and is continuing to do well.

"Steve is not married as some people speculated, but he has a great girl and is planning to go back to school," says his friend and coauthor, Scott Swanton. "I think someday he'll be a philosophy professor of some repute."

Swanton, now trying his hand at screen writing in Hollywood, said the strain of the kidnapping and book writing were so corrosive to his own marriage that he and his wife, Mimi, separated and planned to divorce.

The past year has changed the lives of some trial participants, too.

Chief defense attorney F. Lee Bailey, the flashy Boston trial lawyer, long had been in demand on the talk show and lecture circuit, but it's a new experience for U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr.

Browning has had dozens of speaking engagements since the newspaper heiress was convicted.

"The interest in this Hearst case is just phenomenal," he says. "I would think they would be getting sick of it, but they aren't."

Miss Hearst remains unpopular in the defense camps of her former underground companions in the face of reports that she has been cooperating with government prosecutors and may take the witness stand against one-time comrades in exchange for legal considerations.

SLA members William and Emily Harris — sentenced last month to 11 years to life in Los Angeles on a kidnapping, armed robbery and auto theft conviction — also face trial in Alameda County on charges of kidnapping Miss Hearst, their untried codefendant on the Los Angeles charges.

Wendy Yoshimura, a Japanese-American artist who shared an apartment with Miss Hearst here before her arrest, faces trial in connection with a 1972 Berkeley bombs cache. She has been living with a Japanese-American family in Berkeley and preparing her defense.

Of Assassination

House Votes To Launch Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today voted to launch an investigation into the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy and civil rights leader Martin Luther King.

On a 280 to 65 vote, the House adopted a resolution to establish a special 12-member investigating committee specifically charged with inquiring into the circumstances of the assassinations of Kennedy and King. The panel would have discretion to look into other cases as well.

Speaker Carl Albert told reporters he will designate Rep. Thomas N. Downing, D-Va., as chairman, and Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., as next in line. Downing is retiring at the end of this year and Gonzalez presumably would succeed him if, as expected, the special committee is continued in the next Congress.

Downing told the House before the vote that "in the case of President Kennedy I am convinced there was a conspiracy involved. I do not know the identity of the conspirators or their motives. That should be investigated in depth."

The Warren Commission which investigated Kennedy's death concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald was the sole assassin of the President.

The investigation of King's death is based on information that includes allegations involving the removal of a black policeman and two firemen from their posts in Memphis shortly before the assassination of the civil rights leader.

The information, first aired in 1968, was presented last month to King's widow and to members of the Congressional Black Caucus by Academy Award winning screenwriter Abby Mann and by assassination critic Mark Lane.

Del. Walter Fauntroy, D-D.C., confirmed that Lane and Mann were the source of the "new" information, and a member of the Black Caucus who declined to be identified acknowledged that this same information was instrumental in persuading the House leadership to back the resolution creating a new committee to investigate King's death and that of President John F. Kennedy.

Downing was quoted Wednesday as saying that it was a push by Black Caucus members because of "new information" they say they have received which persuaded the powerful Rules Committee to clear the resolution for floor action.

Although this information has been in the public domain since 1968, it appeared that at least some of it had never been investigated by the FBI.

As described by Lane and Mann in separate telephone interviews Thursday, the information involves a black Memphis police sergeant named Edward E. Redditt, who was in charge of security for King on April 4, 1968.

At 4 p.m. that afternoon Redditt was ordered by Memphis Fire and Police Director Frank C. Holloman to go home because a threat had been made against his life. Redditt returned home where he heard the news of King's death on the radio.

King was shot and killed on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel. James Earl Ray pleaded guilty to the crime and currently is serving a 99-year prison term.

The second piece of information described by Lane and Mann involves the transfer of two black firemen assigned to a fire station located directly across from the Lorraine.

Lane implied that Holloman had authority over the fire department as well as the police department and therefore could have been responsible for both personnel switches.

Before taking the Memphis post, Holloman was a 25-year-veteran of the FBI, including a stint as an inspector in the office of then-FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. Hoover's personal involvement in the FBI campaign to discredit King has been documented by the Senate intelligence committee.

Maxine Smith, executive secretary of the Memphis NAACP, said both incidents had been "general knowledge" since shortly after King's death. However, she said she felt federal authorities had "glossed over" these incidents in their investigation of King's murder.

Mansfield Spends Last Day In Senate On Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, a gentle scholar who wastes no words but whose words have influenced more than three decades of U.S. history, is spending his last day in the Senate.

The 73-year-old Montana Democrat, who earlier this year decided not to seek re-election, today is traveling to the People's Republic of China and won't return before the Oct. 2 end of the congressional session.

Mansfield, an acknowledged authority on Far Eastern affairs who once taught the subject, and Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, are traveling together for what Mansfield described as a work-and-study session.

In customary fashion, Mansfield has said little about his pending departure from the Senate floor, his place of business since 1953. But when coaxed by interviewers, he has obligingly discussed the most memorable successes and failures of Congress since he arrived as a House freshman in 1943.

He has talked about gaining the vote for 18-year-olds, the Senate's investigation into Watergate, creation of an intelligence oversight committee in the Senate and the joy of saving a Montana lake, Flathead. And about the tragedy of Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

In a letter to President Ford shortly after his decision to leave public office, Mansfield wrote in part:

"My years in the Congress encompass one-sixth of the nation's history since independence; the administrations of seven presidents, the assassination of a president and other extreme outrages against human decency; able political leaderships and seamy politics and chicanery; the dawn of the nuclear age and men on the moon; a great war and a prelude of more wars and an uneasy peace.... I ask now that this trust be shifted to other shoulders."

His 16 years as party leader in the Senate exceeded by no man, Mansfield always appeared an unlikely choice for such longevity in a rough-and-tumble business.

Unlike his predecessor as majority leader, Lyndon B. Johnson, Mansfield eschewed arm-twisting pressure tactics against recalcitrant colleagues. "I wouldn't know how," he once said.

But more than one senator admitted being influenced by what was called Mansfield's "high-pitched voice of reason."

Mansfield was elected as assistant Democratic leader of the Senate — majority whip — in 1957 and as majority leader in 1961 when Johnson was elected vice president.

Prinze
Going Back
To Drama

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Freddie Prinze. Oh, yeah, the kid in "Chico and the Man," the guy who makes with the jokes on "Tonight." Funny cat. Bet you didn't know he started as a dramatic actor. At age 15.

But that's what he says. And the 22-year-old son of New York, who initially gained fame as a standup comic at the Improvisation, a Fun City act, is back in dramatic acting in a TV movie being aired Sept. 22.

The opus, on NBC, is "The Million Dollar Rip-Off." Prinze plays a gent name of Muff Kovac, an electronic genius and ex-jailbird who plots to relieve the Chicago transit system of many, many dollars.

It may be his first dramatic role since entering TV, but Prinze says it also marks a return to his start in drama seven years ago, when he was a student at New York's High School of Performing Arts.

While he never got his diploma from that august institution, he says, he did put in one memorable year acting in 16 plays, of which only two were comedies — "Barefoot in the Park" and "Plaza Suite."

Afterward, he adds, he continued acting in off-Broadway plays, "and when I say off-Broadway, I mean like out-of-the-country Broadway."

"I did mostly dramatic plays like 'The Education of Paulo Hummel,' 'Camino Real,' 'Death of a Salesman.' After work, me and the other actors would go by the Improvisation to relax."

"I saw what some of the guys there were doing and I thought, 'These guys aren't funny.' So I went up on stage and mostly did inside jokes for my friends. It became fun for me, a relief after the plays."

In 1973, he said, Jack Paar, planning a comeback on a late-hour ABC talk show, caught his relief work at the club. "He told me to really sharpen up and by the fall they'd put me on the show," Prinze laughed.

The sharpening was done and Paar kept his word. A tape of the guest shot then was sent to the "Tonight" show. With the help of fellow comedian David Brenner, a friend, the tape led to the first "Tonight" appearance.

In due course, Prinze said, "that led to 'Chico and the Man' and dramatics, I think, got set aside for a while."

The NBC handout describes the Sept. 22 movie in which Prinze makes his dramatic debut on TV as "light-hearted" in nature. The star light-heartedly says this is balderdash.

"It's a love story and I think the heist (of transit system funds) almost incidental," he said, explaining that his character is in love with a lady who is unaware of the impending heist.

"When I was three I had malaria, and as a result began

Mel Tillis is an entertainer who can make people laugh and weep and sing, a man who translates experience into song. Watching Mel Tillis, listening to him sing and move and sway an audience with la de da, it's hard to comprehend that this is the same man who, as a kid in Pahoehoe, Florida, took a lot of razzing about his speech.

"When I was three I had malaria, and as a result began

Movie goes on enjoying Mel's dual roles as himself and as a service station attendant in the current motion picture, "W.W. & The Dixie Dance Kings," a 20th Century Fox release.

There's always a lot of activity with Mel Tillis. His most recent LP, "Mel Tillis and the Statesiders," and his latest single, "Best Way I Know How," are high in the charts. His concert dates are taking him from one corner of the country to the other, and back again.

New Housing Units Opposed By Commission

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Commission on Human Rights says construction of 49 housing units in a predominantly black area just west of downtown Louisville would foster segregation.

Furthermore, the proposed project violates U.S. Housing and Urban Development (HUD) regulations, Laken Cosby, commission housing director, said Thursday.

The commission feels building new housing in an area with a heavily black population would increase segregation in the area, Cosby said.

HUD regulations require that when new homes are built in racially compacted areas, a similar number of units should be built in other areas to allow residents a choice, he said.

Cosby said he has written local HUD officials to advise

Rev. J. H. Hodge Will

Speak At Mt. Horeb

Rev. J. H. Hodge of Paducah will be the guest speaker at the Mt. Horeb Free Will Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon, September 18.

The public is invited to attend, according to Rev. Drew, church pastor.

Sinking Spring To Hear Pastor Speak At Sunday Services

The Sinking Spring Baptist Church will hold worship services at eleven a.m. and 7:15 p.m. on Sunday, September 19, with the pastor, Rev. Lawson Williamson, speaking at both services.

"The Spirit Of Jesus Is In This Place" and "Jesus Medley" will be the selections by the Adult Choir, directed by Tommy Scott with Mrs. Scott at the piano and Mrs. Jim Neale at the organ for the morning hour.

L. D. Warren, deacon of the week, will read the scripture and lead in prayer. David Smotherman will give a stewardship testimony.

The youth will meet at the church at 4:30 p.m. for practice and will sing in the evening service. Jim Neale will give a stewardship testimony and the ordinance of baptism will be observed at the evening service.

Sunday School will be at ten a.m. and Church Training at 6:30 p.m.

Volunteer nursery workers will be Mrs. Debbie Sales, Mrs. Deena Blalock, and Mrs. Marty Terry.

Kissinger Takes Shuttle To South African Nations Today

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger took his diplomatic shuttle to South Africa today in an attempt to end the racial confrontation in southern Africa.

Kissinger flew into Waterkloof air base outside Pretoria from Lusaka following talks with Zambian President Kenneth Kaunda. He was met by South African Foreign Minister Hilgard Muller, the South African ambassador to the United States, R. F. Botha, and Secretary for Foreign Affairs Brand Fourie.

Kissinger was to hold his first round of talks with South African Prime Minister John Vorster this evening. There have been reports the secretary might meet with Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith during the two-day visit. Smith said in Umtali, Rhodesia, today he would like to talk with Kissinger.

Arsonists struck in downtown Johannesburg for the second day and unrest continued in Cape Town in advance of Kissinger's visit. Heavily armed police here and in Cape Town were patrolling black and mixed-race townships.

Arson attempts and stone-throwing incidents were also reported in Soweto, the huge black township outside Johannesburg, and sporadic violence continued in colored and black districts around Cape Town, where at least eight persons have been killed and 41 injured in a day and a night of disturbances.

In the Athlone colored township near Cape Town, a crowd halted a food truck, looted it and set it on fire. Attempts were also made to set shops and cars alight in the Manenberg and Athlone areas.

Bus service to Soweto, resumed earlier today for the first time this week, was interrupted again and buses were running only as far as the township's outskirts. Police erected road blocks on all roads leading to Soweto and whites have been banned from entering the township.

In downtown Johannesburg, two fires were started in the offices of the Star newspaper among reels of newsprint and in the staff canteen. The fires were quickly put out and little damage was done.

"This could be a protest from the left or a protest from the right," said editor Harvey Tyson. "At this stage we don't know."

A department store was firebombed in Johannesburg on Thursday. During the night attempts were made to start fires in two buildings at the University of the Witwatersrand, police said.

"We believe this type of attack may be the first of many planned to coincide with Kissinger's visit," a police spokesman said. "We are worried but we will take all necessary precautions."

Kissinger has scheduled talks with Prime Minister John Vorster on the future of Rhodesia and the South African-controlled territory of South-West Africa, where black nationalists have been fighting guerrilla wars against white minority regimes. But he also planned to meet with black and mixed-race South African leaders.

Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith was scheduled to fly to Johannesburg, about 40 miles from Pretoria, on Saturday to watch an international rugby match. There have been reports Kissinger and Smith would meet, but they have so far not been confirmed.

The looting and arson in the Cape Town area Thursday night was aggravated by a massive power failure that plunged much of the Cape peninsula into darkness.

One of those killed was a 15-year-old girl who, relatives said, was hit by a stray bullet as she watched the rioting from a third-floor window.

Although there were no official identifications, it was believed the dead were all nonwhites.

The Cape Town disturbances came at the end of a two-day general strike by nonwhite workers. The job boycott, following a similar three-day strike in the black township of Soweto, near Johannesburg, was called to protest the white government's policies of racial separation, the killing of scores of nonwhites by police during three months of racial violence, and the arrest of hundreds of others.

Outside Cape Town, rioters broke into shops, erected street barricades and set bonfires at intersections in the Athlone and Bonteheuwel townships for "coloreds," as persons of mixed race are officially called.

The power outage, which police said was caused by lightning and not sabotage, stretched from Cape Town to the wine-producing town of Paarl, 35 miles to the northeast.

Court System Will Cost More, Group Told

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's new statewide court system, scheduled to be in full operation by Jan. 1, 1978, will cost more than the existing court system, an interim legislative committee has been told.

"There's no question" it will cost more, William Davis, director of the administrative office of the courts, said Thursday.

Davis told the Interim Committee on Appropriations and Revenue that costs will increase partly because judicial personnel will be working full time under the new system, and partly because lower courts will be in continuous session.

Currently, judges do not have to be lawyers and often hold court at their place of business—whether it's a barbershop or gas station.

State Sen. Walter Baker, R-Glasgow, asked Davis why the new system is now projected to cost more—since proponents of the constitutional amendment establishing the system contended it would not only streamline the judiciary, but "possibly, probably" would reduce the costs.

Davis said he had "no real solid answer."

He said it is difficult to assess what the system actually costs now, since there are no state reporting requirements for the lower courts.

The committee agreed to study the costs of Kentucky's present judicial system and the proposed system, and to determine where the money to pay for the new one will come from.

"There's been no real effort to determine what the bottom line is," said committee Chairman Rep. Joe Clarke, D-Danville. "It needs to be done."

Clarke asked the Legislative Research Commission to work with Davis and compile some cost figures and projections for the committee's next meeting.

Davis told the committee he expects "no substantive changes" in the amount of revenue produced by the state Supreme Court and intermediate Court of Appeals, which would be about $10 million in 1978.

He said projected revenue for the balance of the new court system, including circuit and lower courts would be $24 million in 1978, based on 1974 figures with a seven per cent annual increase figured in.

The Kentucky Municipal League submitted a survey showing that municipal courts in Kentucky generate about $8.7 million annually, but a spokesman for the state Finance Department said an audit of local police court revenues won't be completed until Nov. 1.

Davis characterized the figures on hand on lower court revenues as "soft."
